(2) How we use Cookies and similar technologies

A. Cookies

We may provide services (or products) to you through our website. To ensure that the website operates correctly and efficiently, provide an easier access experience for you and recommend content that you may be interested in, we may store relevant information on your computer or mobile device; such information may be Cookie, Flash Cookie or other local storage provided by your browser or associated applications (collectively referred to as “Cookies”). With Cookies, the client can store data such as your preferences or the items in your shopping cart. Please understand that some of our services are available only through the use of Cookies. You have the right to choose whether to accept Cookies, and all information collection processes will only be initiated after obtaining your consent. If your browser or browser add-on allows, you may modify your acceptance of Cookies or reject our Cookies, but rejection of our Cookies may in some cases affect your safe access to the website and use of the services we provide.

B. Web beacons and pixel tags

In addition to Cookies, we will also use similar technologies such as web beacons and pixel tags on our website. For example, the email we send to you may contain a link of address that links to the content on our website. If you click on the link, we will track that click to help us understand your product or service preferences and improve customer service. A web beacon is typically a transparent graphic image embedded into a website or email. With the pixel tags in e-mail, we can tell if the email has been opened or not. If you don't want your activities to be tracked in this way, you may unsubscribe from our mail list at any time.

(3) How we share, transfer and publicly disclose your Personal Information

A. Share

We will not share your Personal Information with other companies, organizations and individuals, except in the following cases:

- i. Sharing with explicit consent: After obtaining your explicit consent, we will share your Personal Information with other parties
- ii. Sharing under statutory circumstances: we may share your Personal Information in accordance with the provisions of laws and regulations, for meeting the needs for dispute resolution, or as required legally by administrative or judiciary authorities.
- iii. Sharing with our Affiliates: in order to provide services jointly with companies under ENN-NG for you, recommend the information in which you may be interested or protect the personal and property safety of our Affiliates, other users or the general public from harm, your Personal Information may be shared with our Affiliates. We will share necessary Personal Information only (for example, we will share your necessary account information with our Affiliates to enable your use of products or services of our Affiliates via your gas consumption account). If we share your Sensitive Personal Information or our Affiliates may change the purpose of use or processing of your Personal Information, we will seek your authorization and consent anew.
- iv. Sharing with authorized partners: For the sole purpose stated herein, certain services will be provided jointly by us and our authorized partners.

We may share some of your Personal Information with partners to provide enhanced customer service and membership experience. We will share your Personal Information only for legal, legitimate, necessary, specific and express purposes stated herein, and only share the Personal Information necessary for provision of services. Our authorized partners are not entitled to use the Personal Information shared for purposes unrelated to the products or services.

At present, our authorized partners include suppliers, service providers and other partners. We send information to the suppliers, service providers and other partners who support our business by providing technical infrastructure services, analyzing how our services are used, measuring the effectiveness of ads and services, providing customer service, facilitating payments, or conducting academic research and surveys.

We will enter into a strict data protection agreement with companies, organizations and individuals with whom we share Personal Information, requiring them to abide by our instructions, this Policy and any other relevant confidentiality and security measures when processing the Personal Information.

B. Transfer

We will not transfer your Personal Information to any company, organization and individual, except in the following cases:

- i. Transfer with explicit consent: After obtaining your explicit consent, we will transfer your Personal Information to other parties.
- ii. When the transfer of your Personal Information is involved in our merges, acquisitions, or liquidations, or other circumstances involving merges, acquisitions, or liquidations, we will require new companies and organizations that hold your Personal Information to continue to be bound by this Policy. Otherwise, we will require such company, organization and individual to seek your authorization or consent anew.

C. Public disclosure

We will only disclose your information to the public in the following cases:

- i. After obtaining your explicit consent or based on your voluntary choice, we may make public disclosure of your Personal Information;

- ii. If we determine that you have violated laws, regulations or the terms of this Policy or in order to protect our, our Affiliates', users' or the public's personal and property safety from harm, we may disclose your Personal Information with your consent, including relevant violations and the measures that have been taken by ENN-NG against you.

According to the law, the sharing or transfer of Personal Information which has been de-identified and of which the subject cannot be recovered and re-identified by the data recipients shall not be the sharing, transfer and public disclosure of Personal Information. Such data will be stored and processed without notice and your consent.

(4) How we protect your Personal Information

We have adopted reasonable and feasible security measures in compliance with industry standards to protect the security of the Personal Information you provide and prevent the Personal Information from unauthorized access, public disclosure, use, modification, damage or loss. We will use encryption technology to enhance the security of Personal Information; we will employ trusted protection mechanisms to protect the Personal Information from malicious attacks; we will put in place access control mechanisms to make sure that only authorized personnel can access the Personal Information; and we will hold security and privacy protection training courses to raise the employees' awareness of the importance of the protection of Personal Information. If an employee is found to commit any suspicious behavior, such employee shall cooperate with the security management department to review his/her operation behavior in accordance with the safety codes. Where employees violate the Company's information security management rules, the Company will hold the direct responsible persons and the personnel in charge accountable; where employees are suspected of violating regulations or disciplines, such violation will be recorded in the employee files; employees who are subject to suspected criminal offense will be transferred to the judicial authority.

We take all reasonable and feasible measures to avoid collection of unrelated personal information. We retain your Personal Information for no longer than what is necessary for the purposes stated herein, unless an extension of retention period is required or permitted by law. The information will remain in the system until the account is canceled. When the customer cancels the account, the system will handle the customer information in accordance with the registration protocol;

The Internet is not an absolutely safe environment. We strongly recommend that you use the communication methods including email address or the message window published on our website to send the Personal Information. You can establish links and share mutually through our services. When you create a communication or share via our services, you can independently choose who you want to communicate or share with as a third party that can see your contact details, the information communicated, or the content shared.

Please note that the information you share voluntarily or even publicly while using our services may contain your or other persons' personal or sensitive information. Please consider more carefully whether you share or even publicly share relevant information when using our services.

We will endeavor to guarantee the security of any information you send to us. If any of our physical, technical or management protective facilities is damaged, leading to unauthorized access, public disclosure, manipulation or destruction of information which results in damages to your lawful rights and interests, we will assume liabilities accordingly.

Cyber security contingency plans and incidents will be strictly subject to the National Emergency Response Plan for Cyber Security Incidents issued by the Office of the Central Leading Group for Cyberspace Affairs. Incident response shall be carried out by taking five steps of “information submission - > response procedure- > emergency relief - > recovery & reconstruction- > summary, evaluation and improvement”.

In the event of the unfortunate occurrence of a Personal Information security incident, we will inform you as required by laws and regulations of: basic information and possible impacts of the security incident, actions we have taken or will take in response to the incident, suggestions for taking precautions and reducing risks at your own discretion, remedial measures that may be taken against you, etc. Information about the incidents will be notified to you by mail, letter, telephone and other means. In case it is difficult to inform the subjects of Personal Information by one-by-one notification, we will publish an announcement in a reasonably practicable manner. In addition, we will also report the handling of Personal Information security incident as required by regulatory authorities.
